AUGUST NEWSLETTER 2015

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

From the Prez (KB)

I think, no I actually know we have some great members in our club, a couple who went on their holidays but could not let themselves go without making sure our mid year dinner went off without a problem so that we could enjoy ourselves. We all know this couple and their help is always there. I hope they are having a great time on their holiday. As to the mid year dinner it was a great night and a lot of that was because our entertainment officer came with clothes on this time, I was asked to keep the Police on speed dial as we thought we might need them. A great night was had by all, as usual thanks to all the organisers.

We are getting ready for the onslaught of the historic registration rush so I hope you are all getting ready and do not leave it to the last minute.

MID YEAR DINNER

Adelaide is well known for it's 'Mad March' celebrations but it seems the Corvette Club is about to start a new celebration of madness in July! The club's annual Mid Year Dinner was held on the 4th of July with a fitting theme of Red, White and Blue adopted for the night. Many members dressed up for the occasion with many opting for various outfits featuring the familiar stars and stripes of the US flag. It was great to see so many people going to the effort to get dressed up. We had a couple of "Wally's" turn up, Captain America made an appearance and Mr & Mrs Marvel dressed more formally for the evening with a fetching combo of ties and comic action hero pyjamas. It was also great to see new members Steven & Carol and Betty & Brian coming along to join in the fun.

Dave and Stuart took on the roll of MC's for the night and did a great job of presenting all of the prizes. The first couple of rounds of prizes were for lucky table numbers and were taken out by Sandra, Christeen, Kiwi, Graham, Betty and Cathy (with a C not a K).....amazingly Gary McPhee did not win (fluke) any prizes! It was then time to enjoy the next course of dinner before the winners for best dressed were announced. With all the glamour of a red carpet entrance to the Oscars the contestants made their way up to the front for judging by the hotel waiting staff. After a few minutes of intense deliberations the winners were announced. Best dressed male was won by Goof as Captain America....or was that Captain Amourous, Anybodies or Armenia! (there were a number of other suggestions for words beginning with 'A' but to maintain a respectable level of moral content in the newsletter we won't mention them here!). The prize for best dressed female went to a deserving Ruth with her stars and stripes ensemble. A big thank you must go to those who made the night such a success.

We must first and foremost thank Peter & Lynda McBride who, although they were unable to attend, set about organising so much of the night, the time and effort that you both contributed is really appreciated. We must also thank the staff of Fedora's Restaurant for serving us a fantastic meal....the chocolate mousse was a real winner! Thanks to Stuart & Ruth for taking all of the photo's and for hanging the room decorations. Last but not least thanks to Dave for being such a great MC for the night..... the applause you got at the end of the night was mainly for wearing pants this year! We REALLY appreciated that!

Chevrolet Introduces New Z06 C7.R and Host of Other New Corvette Features

By Marcus Amick (<http://chevroletforum.com/>)

After weeks of speculation, Chevrolet finally took the wraps off what is likely to become one of the most coveted Corvette C7 models ever produced.

Known as the Z06 C7.R edition, the limited model was developed to pay homage to the Corvette C7.R racecars, and is offered in Corvette Racing's signature yellow livery or black with coordinated exterior and interior accents.

Only 500 models of the car will be built, and all will come equipped with the Z07 Performance Package with Brembo carbon ceramic brakes, adjustable front and rear aero components and Michelin Pilot Super Sport Cup 2 tires.

“Corvette Racing’s legacy and technology were significant influences on the development of the Corvette Z06, and the new C7.R Edition honors the direct link between the racecar and the production model,” said Harlan Charles, Corvette product and marketing manager, in a press release statement. “It also advances Chevrolet’s plan to offer special-edition models that offer unique, personal ownership experiences, which become important parts of Corvette’s legacy.”

Chevrolet also introduced a number of other new Z06 features for the 2016 model year including a new Carbon Fiber Hood option with a visible weave section and a new Spice Red Design Package.

In addition, the 2016 Z06 will include a new power-cinch feature for coupe hatch and convertible trunk latches, front curb view parking camera offered on 2LZ/3LZ trims, and an enhanced Chevrolet MyLink system.

The highly limited-edition Z06 C7.R edition will also feature a special serialized vehicle identification number, and will be offered on coupe and convertible models. Visit <http://chevroletforum.com/> for a complete rundown of the Z06 C7.R features and more photos.

Model Corner

Daytona Prototype Chevrolets and now badged as Corvettes have been around for a while racing in the Grand Am series in the United States, these beasts are loosely badged as Audis Mazdas and Corvettes. I have been chasing a 1/18th model of the Corvette version for a while now with little success. Persistence has been rewarded when I located 2 models based on the 2004 Grand Am series. Both models are by Action Models in 1/18th and from the Rolex 24 hour event in late January at Daytona. The model I purchased is the number 4 car in 'The Boss Snowplow' team with an LS6 Chevy motor in a red and white livery. The vehicle was driven by D Brule, B Leitzinger, E Forbes-Robinson and J Johnson and due to overheating failed to finish.

Action Models are based in China (where else) and do a lot of Daytona and NASCAR models for the USA market, the model came extremely well boxed and in foam containers with all major parts separated and covered in a small scratch proof bag. The model itself is extremely well detailed with very good graphics and body work. The cabin is sealed and just a little dark to see into but judging by the wiring and what can be seen it is as detailed as the remainder of the model. The front nose cone lifts off to show a detailed moveable front suspension and steering. The rear cowl also lifts off and reveals the detailed Chevy power plant, gearbox and suspension and a lot of wiring for the components. The tyres are a slick rubber compound with detailed brakes visible. The one disappointing factor was that the paintwork is chrome and red rather than the actual red and white that the actual car was painted. This wasn't advertised on the box or the Ebay ad but it is a very nice addition for my collection. The other model available is the red and blue number 2 'CITIGO' team entry for the same race, there were only a small run of both cars made and they are hard to find a general search of 1/18 Action Daytona gets the best results. Considering the low number of both models made I was amazed at the low price starting at $80 Australian plus postage.
